

Identity theft. Phishing. Cyber stalking. The list of cybercrimes continues to grow. This program will give you the skills you need to protect people, networks and intellectual property from hackers. You'll learn about everything from basic security principles that involve networks and operating system to current threats, vulnerabilities and policies of electronic commerce. When you finish this program you'll have a full understanding of the principles of risk management, security architectures, incident handling, disaster recovery and secure systems administration.

Don't worry if you don't have extensive knowledge of computers before enrolling in this program. This program begins with everyone learning the basics of repair and maintenance, covering everything from hardware, software and operating systems along with the installation, configuration and troubleshooting of network hardware.

How You'll Learn Hands-On

Get out of the classroom and into the real world with projects such as:

- Repairing desktop and laptop computers
- Tracking and patching security holes after a simulated breach of security

Where it Can Take You

Use the skills you'll learn in this program to find a career you'll love. Possibilities include:

- Cyber Crime Investigator
- Security Engineer
- Vulnerability Researcher
- Security Incident Responder
